

Acknowledgement

Firstly, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisors Miss Evelyn Sepcha (Assistant professor) and Miss Parbati (Assistant professor and HOD) for their continuous support, motivation and guidance during my entire field survey and report writing. Their immense knowledge, enthusiasm and inspiration helped me to overcome many difficulties during my research work.

My sincere acknowledgement and gratitude goes to our principal Fr. Donatus Kujur S.I. who have always encouraged and supported our department and to us in every academic path.

I will always be grateful to all those people who kind heartedly participated and cooperated with us while collecting our primary field. It was more enthusiastic to understand in depth livelihood wisdom of the place.
